Bio

Lisa Marie Evans is a multidisciplinary artist and Kansas City, Missouri native. Her work varies in form from feature length documentary to short animation and public art installation. Evans has been a selected artist for Creative Capital's Professional Development Workshop for Artists, the Metropolitan Arts Council of Kansas City's Inspiration Grant, Charlotte Street Foundation's Studio Residency Program, and Arizona's Commission on the Arts' Professional Development Grant.

Evans has worked as an instructor at the Kansas City Art Institute, the University of Missouri Kansas City and Artists, INC, a professional development course for artists. As a youth worker and activist, she developed curricula and led all ages in exploring personal and community issues through the art of filmmaking. Evans builds and facilitates self-maintained websites for artists, non-profit organizations and small businesses. She currently maintains a full-time multi-media art practice.
